A Match Made In Heaven

Imagine the most intelligent, physically, and spiritually perfect man meets a woman who completely compensates for his only flaw. She too is intelligent, physically, and spiritually perfect. Truly, they are a match made in Heaven. They'd live in the best neighborhood, He would lead the home spiritually and physically. She would be by his side exercising her own unique gifts and qualities as they lived together in unity and purpose for God. This is exactly the account of Adam and Eve, the first marriage until Satan, the enemy, visited.

The first attack of Satan was to strike their marriage. Genesis 3:1 shows the enemy first went after the established God given order of the home. He bypassed Adam to drive a wedge between God's creation. Symbolically a marriage union is a physical example to illustrate God's relationship to the people. Marriages today are no different. Our enemy, Satan, desires to separate spouses to upset the Godly balance in the home and destroy God's message of love to each of us.

This attack on the marriage lead to catastrophic consequences. Genesis 3 tells us they were evicted from the neighborhood, lost a great livelihood, lived in shame, and one of their sons took the life of his brother. The result of a married couple's

Be vigilant in your fight against Satan, not your spouse, to ensure you maintain the harmony in your relationship. Both the husband and the wife have God ordained commands to keep. The husband is to be the spiritual leader. The wife completes God's plan for creation to be with the husband as they together bring glory to God. When the world observes your marriage, let them see the love of God through your relationship. Only when both the man and the wife are obedient to God, can the marriage be what God intended from the beginning.
